Be sure to learn the 12 Major chords before moving on to the minor chords. Notice that the visual aspect of the chords (marshmallow, Oreo cookie, etc.) have changed because you have lowered the middle note a half step.

You don’t have to learn these minor chords in this way. Just remember to lower the middle note of a Major down a half step and you’ve got it.

Once you successfully have the 12 minor Chords marked on this sheet, sit down at your keyboard and learn each group by playing the Major chord first and then make it minor. The real secret to learning these 12 minor Chords is through repetition and visualization. Repetition by a slow precise movement in your hand and being able to visualize the chord even when you’re not looking at the keyboard is the key to learning them as quickly and easily as possible.
